Lumina

Since 1980 we have been designing and producing technical and decorative lamps. Lumina, founded by Tommaso Cimini (Daphne, 1975), is today managed by the sons Ettore and Andrea, who carry on the family business using the most advanced technologies. Our products are distributed worldwide and displayed in some of the most famous museums and galleries in the world. Our production is made in the Arluno plants (Greater Milano Area), supported by local skilled craftsmen. We firmly believe in craftsmanship and high quality manufacturing. Our skills and experience, together with passion for technical innovation, have been adopted throughout the manufacturing process to achieve lamps with great attention to every detail.

History of Daphne

In 1975 the skilled technician, Tommaso Cimini, was involved in electro-mechanical endeavors for prominent lighting companies in Northern Italy. Thanks to his creativity and background in mechanical engineering, he envisioned an easy-to-make, freely adjustable table lamp. Making the most of his manual skills and technical inventiveness, he developed the necessary models that led to the birth of Daphne. In 1977, Tommaso began to deliver the first Daphne lamps into the lighting showrooms of Milan.
