scandinavian design

new perspectives

Muuto is rooted in the Scandinavian design tradition characterized by enduring aesthetics, functionality, craftsmanship and an honest expression.

By expanding this heritage with forward-looking materials, techniques and bold creative thinking, our ambition is to deliver new perspectives on Scandinavian design.

In fact our name, Muuto, comes from muutos, meaning new perspective in Finnish. We handpick leading contemporary designers who are strong interpreters of our philosophy and combine their talents with the passionate Muuto creative team.

You will know our design because it has muutos: objects made sublime through new perspectives, enjoyed across the world, representing the best of Scandinavian design today.

How can design trigger emotion and why do we gravitate towards one space over another? It's these types of questions that drive our dedication to creating new design, as we hope our perspectives will make you reflect on what makes a space feel just right.

feels just right

Our interiors are landscapes for authentic and analogue experiences. Our homes are filled with objects that stimulate the senses. Colors that evoke memories and emotions. Materials that trigger feelings. Shapes that tap into our subconscious. Objects influence our impression of space and how we feel when in the presence of them.

Of course, our perceptions of design are subjective. An object can have a clear personality and convey multiple messages, depending on the receiver. It could be a small detail you find endearing. A fabric you like to run your fingers over. The sound a lamp makes when switched on. Or the color of a sofa that soothes you. We each experience designs in our own ways and its colors, shapes, materials and tactility affect how we interpret our surroundings.

It's all about perspectives

Our name Muuto comes from the Finnish word muutos, meaning new perspective. Drawing on our Scandinavian roots, we create functional, well-crafted pieces with an enduring aesthetic and an honest expression. Before we introduce a new Muuto design, we want to be sure that it adds a new perspective, building on a strong heritage but in a modern context - somehow improving or challenging what has been made before.

We search for designers who share this same mindset. Creatives with a contemporary take on tradition, who embrace the essence of Scandinavian design. Who are keen on exploring a forward-thinking approach to natural materials, comfort, craftsmanship and durability. Individuals who bring a fresh set of eyes to creating something new, as well as new ways of reimagining something old.

People tend to gravitate towards something that feels familiar yet new. We aim to create designs that are inviting and intuitively attractive. Designs should spark curiosity and interest - without imposing itself on its surroundings. Because a chair in one interior can seem soft and elegant, whereas in another interior it can look contemporary and edgy. It's all about perspectives.

More than merely design

For a design to have character, it involves details that resonate with us on a deeper level, which result in an object with presence. Able to set the scene for dining and socializing. A more focused atmosphere for working. Or a sense of wellbeing for relaxing.

Everybody knows the feeling of entering a room that feels good. We hope our perspectives on Scandinavian designs will inspire you to reflect on your surroundings and how they make you feel. To create a space that feels just right. ●

contex—

At Muuto, color is at the heart of our universe, rooted in the belief that color influences how we feel in the spaces that we inhabit. We are surrounded by color every waking moment, whether it is the painted shade of our living room wall, the upholstery of a sofa in the lobby area of a hotel or the tabletop hue of our desk at work. Colors, be they bright or dark, vibrant or subtle, influence our perception of spaces and how we feel when in the presence of them.

The colors that we encounter have the potential to affect how we feel, whether it be relaxed, energized, reflective, inspired or any other emotion.

Color is subjective

Color has been an integral part of everyday life for humans since forever. How we perceive colors is influenced by our cultural and social identity, making color an entirely subjective thing. Though our way of seeing color differs from person to person, the influence of color on our everyday lives is clear: The colors that we encounter have the potential to affect how we feel, whether it be relaxed, energized, reflective, inspired or any other emotion.

Our senses decide whether a given color make us feel inspired, at ease or energized. What evokes these feelings within us can be anything from the soft warmth of wood over a vibrant rose textile to the elegance of polished aluminum.

Working with the context of color

How we experience color is formed in relation to all the elements around it—the colors of its surroundings, the shape on which the color appears, the texture onto which it is applied, the amount of a color that is used within a room and the atmosphere that we experience the color in.

This means that our perception of color is in constant motion. The Muuto color scheme is an ever-evolving creative process. We strive to be curious and evolve our color palette and continuously work with various approaches to colors, seeking to challenge and drive our color profile forward. We never just apply one color across all of our designs; instead it's a careful search for the right colors for the right surfaces, materials and shapes. We experiment, we test and we adjust new hues, bringing unique shades that complement the existing colors in our universe.

One thing is clear,
when working with colors, there is no right or wrong; there is only color

Make our colors yours

One thing is clear, when working with colors, there is no right or wrong; there is only color.

We'd like for you to consider our color palette a curated library of hues, employed in various ways across our collection, ranging from the warmly inviting over contemporarily vibrant to refined and elegant sentiments, available for you to identify the very colors that speak to you. ●

“With the In Situ Modular Sofa, we wanted to combine the functions of modularity with the beauty of simple, elegant lines and a deep comfort. We sketched a profile that runs along the seat and back of the sofa to subtly hide the visual elements of modularity, giving it a unique character while bringing the individual modules together for a complete appearance.”

our sustainable perspec— tives

At Muuto, we aim to take responsibility for our operations and reflect on the choices we make and how our priorities affect the wellbeing of people and the environment. From the materials we select to the partners we work with, the independent institutes we test and certify our products through, and all the way down to our packaging.

Our approach is based on knowledge and staying curious. With each new advancement in the field and as new research emerge, we keep searching for new perspectives on sustainability across all our operations. Listening. Learning. And improving.

It Starts With Enduring Designs

Long-lasting products

As a design-driven company, we want our designs to be appealing now – and in the future. Drawing on our Scandinavian heritage, we seek designs with a distinctive character. Reflecting creative thinking that's rooted in functionality and crafted with forward-thinking materials. The result is an enduring aesthetic that defies any trend. Designs that last and that you would like to keep and pass on to the next generation.

Testing is key to longevity. To keep our high quality high, continuous testing is at the core of our development processes. For high levels of strength and stability, our products are certified by independent institutes that are well-respected authorities in the industry.

EN is the European Standard, which measures and assesses the strength, durability and safety of our products for domestic and non-domestic use. On top of that, we also test a variety of our furniture against one of the most demanding standards, the North American, ANSI/BIFMA. Together, these industry standards are your assurance that our designs are safe—and built to last. According to Muuto's general terms of sale and delivery, all products have a 3-year warranty.

BIFMA

Reflecting On Materials

Conscious designs

Whenever we develop a new product with our designers, we reflect on the impact it will have on your health, your surroundings and the environment.

We continuously seek new perspectives and work with the best in our industry to learn about new techniques and materials. The search for the right materials is an integral part of our design process and we put great importance on all the materials that comprise a design. From the large components, such as wood and textile, down to recycled materials used in our designs and packaging, we consider a material's origin and life cycle.

For new product launches, we have initiated the process of discontinuing the use of Styrofoam in its packaging and replacing plastic bags with either reusable dust bags or paper bags.

The Air We Breathe Indoor

Healthier indoor climates

Without a doubt, the air we breathe is essential for our health. Even for indoor environments, where we spend so much of our time, the air quality is vital to our sense of wellbeing.

In any space and often impossible to see, chemicals are emitted into the air. These emissions come from all kinds of objects in our everyday lives. The type of emissions that can have an adverse effect on our health contain what's called Volatile Organic Compounds (VOCs). In fact, the majority of VOCs can be found at home—in certain types of soaps, perfume and cosmetics, cleaning products and disinfectants, fuel, paint, plastic and the like.

At Muuto, we want our furniture to enhance your surroundings, while at the same time, create healthier indoor climates. That's why we go to great lengths to have our furniture tested. So far, the vast majority of our collection is VOC tested.

Reasons To Feel Reassured

Eco labels & certificates

There are numerous types of labels and certificates that address different aspects of sustainability. We have chosen the ones most relevant to you—and our portfolio of products.

Muuto participates in Declare, a platform based on transparency that lets you see the origins and lifecycle of a product. A selection of our furniture is Living Building Challenge Red List Approved.

A number of our designs are Global GreenTag Level C-certified. Recognized worldwide as a trusted, independent eco-label certification, Global GreenTag was established to empower you, as a consumer, to confidently choose products that have been sustainably made.

Muuto is an FSC™-certified company (FSC C028824). The Forest Stewardship Council™ (FSC) aims to ensure that forests are managed in a sustainable, environmentally responsible manner that preserves the natural surroundings, while also supporting the local community.

The mark of responsible forestry

Our Work Internally

Our operation

We always consider how our decisions will affect the lives of those around us. That also includes evaluating our internal operations.

Our Danish HQ, offices and warehouses are running on 100% renewable energy. A move that lowers our overall carbon footprint. It's an initiative we are in the process of incorporating in all our Muu-to showrooms and flagship stores around the world.

In addition to lowering our carbon footprint, we have implemented a system that tracks our energy consumption and carbon emissions across our internal operations. From the cars we drive to our proper management of waste. This allows us to continuously measure, evaluate and find new ways to improve.

A Shared Responsibility

Our suppliers

As we aim to take responsibility for our operations, we expect and demand the same from our suppliers.

In striving to ensure that our designs are produced using safe techniques, by skilled workers who operate under healthy conditions, we have all our manufacturers sign our Code of Conduct. Our Code of Conduct is aligned with the UN Global Compact of Human Rights and includes principles that respect labor laws, human rights, ethical conduct as well as the environment. Key issues include anti-corruption policies and prohibiting child labor. Because for us, it's essential that our suppliers share the same mindset when it comes to socially responsible practices.
